of Dreamer Had Won I'd Have Bet $15,000 on My Filly," Says the Noted Plunger, Who Has Curtalled His Wagers Because of Big Losses-The Ring Hit

"If Dreamer had won," said Dave Johnson when he saw his filly, Tilekilns, walk of with the sixth race yesterday, "I'd have bet $15,000 on that one. As it is I cash a comparatively small wager." Stung by many reverses since the opening of the season, boson within the last couple of days has ile did not do much yesterday until the fourth race, when he wagered $4,000 on Dreamer at 7 to 2. Jack Martin rode a spienid race on Dreamer; but the Hamburg gelding was just a trife short and was beaten the last jump by a few inches. This bit f ill luck did not appear to unnerve Johnon, but he pointed to the fact that many such heartbreaking incidents.

lost a good wager on Maxnar in the fifth race and was further discouraged, so when it came time to bet on Tilekilns, no carried his own colors, the noted bettor as in a quandary. He had learned some hing about a horse named Beardell, by The Greek-Marionette, in the same race and as it was said that the youngster had worked ve furlongs in 1:02, Johnson was afraid hat Tilekilns would be beaten. But after some quiet investigating, the trainer of Reardall was heard to say that he did not eliere his horse would be better than third. field was at the post then and Johnson was still trying to figure it all out. Finally ather than allow Tilekilns to run unbacked e sent a comparatively small commission

When Johnson saw her far out in treat of the others he must have scored himself roundly for not making one of his characteristic plunges, for he lost a royal chance recover some of the big money burned up Roseben, Peter Pan, Whimsical, Grapple and other horses that have been beaten unexpectedly this year.

The really wise men fell with a duil thud when Maxnar failed to deliver the goods in the fifth race. Bobby Smith, the trainer of his old horse, went among his friends early in the day and told them that Maxnar would in as far as a stone could be thrown. In spite of the fact therefore that Right Royal d Molesey were also in the race the wise men backed Maxnar as if it was all over light Royal was played by the Haymans and their connections from 5 down to 7 to 2, while Jack Bennet and his friends reduced Molesey from 5 to 4. When the race was under way however, it was quickly discovered that Maxnar did not have speed enough to beat a Belt Line horse car. Finn worked hard with him, using the whip freely, but Maxnar would not extend himself at all. When he trailed home in the ruck the exponents of racetrack wisdom looked decidedly sheepish light Royal, ridden by Jack Martin, was in all sorts of tight places and never got a good Even with seventeen starters in the first dle the form players went to her with much cagerness. She was favorite, but receded half a point to 3 because of the wise play on Oyama, backed from 6 to 4. Sheriff Hayes, who won his race in the Schreiber colors, did not attrack the support of the liberal spec-ulators, as he receded from 5 to 8. There was a good play on Rosemount across the boards, but Battleaxe, who ran in the third hole, was not so generously played. The Miller-ites and the Sullivans went down hard on Ace High, who was widely in demand at 4. The esult of this race was welcomed by the lay-

Buckman, had he won, would have enabled the paddock players to put a crimp in the layers' bank rolls, but just when he looked like a possible win-ner he stepped on a bandage which had come unwound from his foreleg and came within an ace of falling. Live Wire was backed from Beutler was also well taken both ways. August Belmont's Fair Play, who started in this race, after trying to throw Jockey Mountain on the way to the post, had early speed, but was green. He is by Hastings-Fairy Gold. After two disgraceful defeats De Mund tried to redeem himself in the handicap. He was in fine fettle, but the shrewd speculators did not care much for him, so that he receded from 5 to 2 to 16 to 5, although he received a strong play at that. He showed the usual burst of early speed, but could not maintain his advantage. Still, beaten only two heads, the $45,000 lemon did not run such a bad race after all, as he gave scale weight to everything in the handicap, including three pounds to McCarter and sixteen to Dreamer. McCarter was the strongest kind a favorite with the public and his success created a world of enthusiasm. As Dreamer as heavily backed for the place, the ring suffered a severe jolt.

While the form players cashed on Tilekilns in the sixth event, Beardall, who ran second, was reduced from 10 to 5, played three ways, while Sempro was also in much demand in the show books. Masson, a colt by Mazagan-Josie W., who carried the colors of the Newcastle Stable, receded from while there was a play on Sydney Paget's Tinker Bell, a filly by Farandale,

The ring got another knockdown when Helen B. won the last race, as she was backed from 5 to 2 to 9 to 5. W. H. He played around the entire field and was beautifully mounted. La Montague was by far the most clever Rockaway player, but his mount to-day was poor.

New Haven started with a handicap of 7 points. Hazard and Rawlins, who scored for Rockaway the only two goals secured, played with excellent judgment. The Rockaway team work was not up to the usual standard. Dixon of New Haven followed the ball too closely and several times made bad errors, but his hard driving atoned for these.

To finish the first round, Wylie C. Grant met and defeated G. P. Smith of the home club. Grant then met S. H. Rowe, another Kings County player, and beat him in straight sets. Grant has to meet E. Cameron of the Knickerbocker F. C. to achieve the semi-finals. Henry Mollenhauer, who had improved over his wildeess of the opening day, took the measure of the lengthy Otto Hinck in straight sets.

It is the general opinion that Anderson will be the winner of the first leg on the new championship trophy. He will probably meet Irving Wright on one side and Wylie Grant is expected to meet McMahon. Mollenhauer has a chance. It is the general opinion that the match between Anderson and Wright in the semi-finals will really settle the tourney.

The play in doubles began yesterday with two matches in the preliminary round. The summary:

The Montclair boy returned a total of persevered and took the race by a nose in 1:09 4-5, Dreamer beating De Mund a head for the place, with H. P. Whitney's Prince 153. At the end of the morning round Travis Douglas, Fred Herreshoff and Marshall White latch were tied for the lead, with 78, a stroke something unusual was expected of him, entirely too fast for Herreshoff, his partner. The former got a stroke under par with a 3 at the third hole. His 3 at the ninth hole up the hill was fine, as this green is rarely reached in less than two full shots. This gave the champion a 36 out. Coming home his only slip was a 6 at the long fifteenth hole, although by par golf he might have saved a stroke at the tenth and again at the twelfth. It was his cluster of 3s as much as anything else that enabled him to distance his rivals, for neither Travis nor Douglas in the afternoon could do better than a brace of 3s. The leader's card was as

There were no surprises in the first round of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association championship, continued at the Knollwood Country Club yesterday. Both of the favorites, Miss Georgianna Bishop of Brooklyn and Miss Julia R. Mix of Englewood, defeated their opponents and it was also worthy of mention that the scoring was consistently lower than in the qualifying round on Tuesday. The survivors will meet in the semi-final round to-day as follows: Miss Bishop yas Miss Harrison, Miss Mix vs. Miss Milne. The summary follows:

Championship Cup—First round—Miss Georgianna Bishop, Brooklawn, beat Mrs. M. D. Paterson, Baltusrol. 1 up (twenty-one holes): Miss Ruth Harrison, Baltusrol, beat Mrs. M. D. Harry Legg of the Lawrenceville School won the title of interscholastic golf champion at Garden City yesterday when he defeated E. M. Wild of Cranford by 7 up and 5 to play in the thirty-six hole final round. As a matter of fact nearly all the honors of the tournament were gathered in by the Lawrenceville representatives, as H. C. Jordan of the same school won the consolation cup. The only exception to the Lawrenceville stying of successes was the winning of the low score prize in the qualifying round by Wild earlier in the week.

Experience and physique had much to do with determining the match for the title. Wild is but a slip of a lad and hardly able to bear up under an all day test, especially over a long and trying course like Garden City. He was almost invariably outdriven by the young man, who once won the championship of Minnesota. It was this having to continually play the odd that got Wild pressing. In the final for the consolation cup Jordan defeated C. Buckingham of the St. Paul School by 2 up and 1 to play.

There were fifty-six starters in the annual golf tournament of metropolitan advertising interests at Fox Hills yesterday. Singles were played in the morning, and foursomes in the afternoon. In the morning handicap Jason Rogers of the Deal Golf Club won the net score prize with a card of 87, 8—79. E. J. Ridgeway and D. M. Parker also ame in for net prizes. G. B. Martin of Yountakah, with 86, won the gross score prize, while E. A. Freeman, Dyker Meadow, and C. W. Inslee won trophies. Inslee won after a play off with F. C. Sands of Meriden.

The same array of prizes was also offered in the foursomes. W. C. Freeman and G. S. Brown led with a card of 85, 11—74, while E. A. Freeman and E. J. Ridgeway had the best gross, 77. Other combinations to win trophies were A. L. Aldred and C. H. Rosenfeld, 96, 16—99; W. W. Harris and F. J. Ross, 89, 8—81; R. S. Wood and E. W. Spalding, 103, 26—77; R. B. Martin and T. S. Hope, 85, 6—79. There were fifty-six starters in the annua

NO FAKES, NO FIGHTS. So Says Jack O'Brien, Telling of Rehearsals

Bouble Crosses and Other Practices. SAN FRANCISCO, May 22 - The Ecening / Bulletin to-day prints a signed statement by Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, in which the Quaker pugilist declares that nearly every big fight in which he has been engaged vas a fake. O'Brien contends that having adopted puglism as a profession and being far more scientific than most of his opponents, the only puglism as a profession and being far more scientific than most of his opponents, the only way he could get matches was by consenting to frame them up, thus permitting his opponents to clean up liberally in betting.

O'Brien tells at great length of the arrangements made with forming Burns. He declares that he was not in any condition to fight, but that Burns's eagerness to arrange a fake misled him. Hence he consented to go into the ring when he wasn't fairly trained, and it was only when the gong sounded that he saw he had been double crossed.

After the first round, he says, all his attention was given to lasting out the twenty rounds as he was in no condition to put up a good fight. He also gave details of takes arranged with Peter Jackson, Tommy Ryan, Walcott and with Fitzsimmons in his first right in Philadelphia. Fitz altempted to double cross him, O'Brien declares, but was severely punished.

O'Brien iso says his bout with Sam Berger in Philadelphia was fixed and that the fight was rehearsed in a bar the night before with Jack Gleason as solitary spectator. Sports here regard O'Brien's statement as a lame effort to explain how he came to make so poor a showing recently in Los Angeles, Every expert pronounced O'Brien in the pink of condition, and his present claim that he was not right is scofled at. Gleason and others here also give the let o O'Baien's statement that the O'Brien-Berger fight was framed up.
